MESSAGE FROM YOUR COLLEGE GUIDANCE DIRECTOR

Dear Sporting California Families,

As we move into February, college soccer recruiting is fully in motion. This is a critical time of year for our athletes—seniors are finalizing commitments, juniors are entering one of the most important recruiting windows of their journey, and underclassmen are beginning to build the foundation that will shape their future opportunities. The College Pathways Program exists to provide clarity, guidance, and honest insight into the recruiting process so families feel informed and confident every step of the way. Our goal is to help each athlete find the right college fit—academically, athletically, and personally—and to remind our players that preparation, consistency, and communication are key to success at the next level. Don't forget to join us in our next college event!

WHAT COLLEGE COACHES ARE LOOKING AT

February is a pivotal month in the college soccer recruiting cycle. Seniors are finalizing decisions, juniors are entering their most important evaluation window, and underclassmen are laying the groundwork for future opportunities. While highlight videos and stats matter, college coaches are focused on much more than goals and assists at this stage of the year.

Consistency Over Highlights

College coaches are watching how often you perform well—not just your best moments. They want to see:

- Reliable effort from kickoff to final whistle
- Decision-making under pressure
- How you respond after mistakes
- Your work rate when the ball isn't at your feet

A solid, consistent performance every game often outweighs one standout highlight.

Academics Matter More Than You Think

In February, coaches are reviewing transcripts just as closely as game film. Strong grades give coaches flexibility when recruiting and increase your chances of admission and scholarship support. A high GPA can be the difference between:

- A roster spot vs. no offer
- Partial aid vs. full support
- Admission vs. denial

Athletes should be prepared to share current GPA, course rigor, and graduation year when communicating with coaches.

Communication Is Key

This is the time when athletes—not parents—should be leading communication with college coaches. Coaches value players who:

- Respond professionally and promptly
- Ask thoughtful questions
- Show genuine interest in the program

A simple, well-written email with updated film, schedule, and academic info goes a long way.

The Right Fit Over the Biggest Name

Not every successful college soccer player starts at a Division I powerhouse. Coaches and athletes alike are prioritizing:

- Playing time, Academic support, Team culture, Coaching style and Long-term development.

Finding the right environment leads to better success on and off the field.

February Action Checklist

- ✓ Update highlight video
- ✓ Review transcript and GPA
- ✓ Send follow-up emails to college coaches
- ✓ Talk with your club coach about realistic options
- ✓ Attend ID camps with purpose—not pressure

College Director Insight

Recruiting is not a race, and it's not the same for everyone. Stay patient, stay prepared, and stay focused on what you can control—your effort, your attitude, and your academics. Sporting California's College Pathways Program is here to guide and support you through this journey!

ABOUT THE SCHOLARSHIP

The 3rd Annual MZK Scholarship is presented by a former Sporting California athlete through the Alumni Association Program established in 2023. Through the Sporting California College Pathways Program, three outstanding student-athletes—one freshman, one sophomore, and one junior—have been selected to receive a $1,000 scholarship each year through their senior year of high school. This scholarship is designed to support each athlete's college pathway and may be applied toward Sporting California dues or, once dues are met, toward college showcases and ID camps. The MZK Scholarship reflects our commitment to recognizing academic achievement, athletic dedication, and character while helping families manage the costs associated with college soccer. Read more about each one of these athletes in our upcoming college newsletter. Congratulations to this year's scholarship recipients!
